April has been full of exciting activities at 100 Mile. While grade four students went to Eliza Archie Memorial School for a floor hockey jamboree, we hosted our own in-house event for grades three and five. PAC president Jen Johnston referred to the climate as, "Monster truck energy" as she sat on the stage preparing endless beautiful tissues flowers for our spring semi-formal. Students were randomly assigned teams, and played seven-minute games refereed by Mr Feissli & Mr Plante.

Later that same day, students in grades six and seven attended our second-annual Spring Semi-Formal. Students were treated to an evening of music and dancing, laughter and snacks, making memories provided by the opportunity organized by Ashley Keeping, Jen Johnston, Amber Vigh, and Caren Folster. As it stands, we are the only elementary school that hosts such events for our students, and I am endlessly grateful for the ways our PAC makes the school experience so much richer for our kids.

The return of beautiful (if chilly) spring weather means more learning outside. Students in Ms Dolisnki's 2/3 class have germinated and planted beans, while Mrs Varney's K1 and Mrs Simcox's 5/6 have been making excellent use of the park. (Find an article about Mrs Varney's class here.

Mrs Jones visits Ms Speer's 3/4 class to make Cheer Pins to spread kindness throughout the school.

As part of the grade five Social Studies curriculum, Mrs Simcox organized for representatives from our area to come to an all-candidates type of visit with grades 5-7 classes. Find the article here. (Candidates Visit 100 Mile Elementary).
