The voting process and how our Winners are determined:

Applications are voted on by members of the First Nations Education Council. The applicants' names are omitted throughout their package and their photos are with-held from the judges to give role model candidates the best chance of being chosen strictly by the contents of their package.

The members of First Nations Education Council are not aware of who the winners are until the day of the Role Model Celebration. It is the responsibility of the First Nations Education Department to total the scores from the voting packages and from that the winners' posters and bookmarks are made using the photo submitted.
